

FIREBALL KLASH compact laser-game

Fireball Klash is a revolutionary type of laser-game.
Taking up a space of only 4 by 4 meters it offers a great sense of competition and entertainment to up to 8 players!

The Players use a “Fireball” to shoot the electronic targets that are hidden in the walls and ceiling of the octagonal Fireball kiosk.

These targets appear and disappear quickly and can change their colours instantly. The players mark points by shooting these targets.

But sometimes targets can turn into red, which makes the players who shoot them lose points. Or they can be rainbow-coloured for a bonus ! The players can also target the other players' Fireball to score points or to get them out of the game for a while...

All this action is supported by matching sounds and light-effects for an even stronger feeling of competition and the players can read their scores permanently on a screen inside the kiosk.

The game can be played individually or in 2, 3 or 4 teams.
